

his city during his sojourn here.

The story telegraphed from Troy about the recovery of a cane stolen from Mr. Lincoln's box in the theater, on the night of his assassination, is pronounced by Mr. Charles Forbes, who was an usher at the White House at the time, to be false, as Mr. Lincoln had no cane with him.

---